RE: Customs offices - general short question for clarification - Portugal [REDACTED]

Dear [REDACTED]

Thank you for submitting your question and I will try to give you also a short answer for clarification purposes.

According to Article 4, (4d) of Council Regulation (EEC) No. 2913/92 of 12 October 1992 establishing the Community Customs Code (CCC), the "Customs Office of Exit" (COE) means "the customs office designated by the customs authorities in accordance with the customs rules to which goods must be presented before they leave the customs territory of the Community and at which they will be subject to customs controls relating to the completion of exit formalities, and appropriate risk-based controls.".

As you can see in the image file attached representing the location of Portuguese Customs Offices at the internal portuguese customs territory (Map of Portugal with the border with Spain), there are only 3 (named "Vila Real de Santo António", "Elvas", and, "Vilar Formoso"), and any of them are opened 24 hours a day, 7 days per week and 365 days per year, to perform their duties as a COE. If there are situations where it is necessary to open any of that 3 Customs Offices outside the normal hours of public attendance, it would be very specific and sporadic cases.

Our international airport in Helsinki has 24/7 Customs. We do have 24/7 office at the internal border in Tornio, at the Swedish border. However, they are doing at the same time national risk-analysis and using LIPRE-system for the whole Finland. So we don't have 24/7 only for internal border traffic.

Dear all...

Sorry to interrupt but I have a small question of a general character:

Does there in your country exist customs offices placed at the internal border opened 24 hours a day

I suppose that you have such at the external border i.e. harbour and airports, but are they also such offices placed at the internal borders.

It will be nice if it is possible to have your (short) answer during today Monday 30 May 2011. It is not necessary to list them – just if there are such offices.

Best regards
